Firefighters respond to structure fire on Ragan Road

THE COLONY, Texas — At approximately 1:30 p.m. today, The Colony Fire Department responded to a single-story structure fire in the 6200 block of Ragan Road.

Upon arrival, it was discovered the fire was in the attic of the home. High winds, however, were a factor in efforts to contain the blaze, forcing firefighters to take a defensive posture and call in mutual aid from neighboring departments.

Two residents were home at the time of the fire but evacuated without injury. A family pet also escaped unharmed. One TCFD firefighter was injured and was transported to an area hospital but the injuries are not believed to be serious.

Mutual aid was on the scene from Frisco, Lewisville, Little Elm and Plano fire departments.
